

Brooklyn Political Leaders In a Panic Over Registration

Both Sides Order District Captains to Get Out the Voters—Light Betting Favors Miller.

Previously disappointed at the falling off in the three first days of registration, the leaders of both the Democratic and Republican parties have become alarmed and to-day issued orders to spare no pains to get every voter out. A house to house canvass is to be made to-day, to-morrow and Saturday, and notice has been served on the election district captains that they will be held strictly to account for the failure to make a good showing. The women have been especially appealed to, and the leaders of both parties agree that much will depend upon their efforts. Only a few of the Assembly districts have equalized the registrations of the past four years despite the natural increase in the population. There has been a normal registration in the 10th, 11th, 12th, 18th and 21st Assembly Districts, where the women are well organized. The increase is attributed largely to their activity and the orders have gone out to other districts to emulate them.

Justice Frank S. Gannon Jr. and ex-County Judge William R. Bayes, the two Republican candidates for Justices of the Supreme Court, are speaking at three and four meetings each night and often address gatherings during the day. They have appeared during the noon hour at several large factories, shipyards and other plants where large numbers of men work. They find this an effective way of campaigning and propose to continue it until election. Other candidates have also adopted this method of talking direct to the workmen, who comprise a large per cent. of the voters.

So far there has been very little betting on election results. What few wagers have been made on the Governorship show Gov. Miller to be a 5 to 5 favorite. Sentiment has not begun to crystallize, nor will it until after registration. John H. McCooey, the Democratic leader, claims that the Democrats will carry the county by a plurality exceeding 55,000, but this is disputed by both Senator William M. Calder and Chairman Jacob A. Livingston, who are conducting the Republican campaign. Senator Calder confidently feels that he is going to carry his home town, and while it is conceded that he will run largely ahead of his associates on the ticket the Democrats will not admit that he will even carry the borough. Fred Schumm, the local betting commissioner, says he will be ready next week to take all sorts of bets on the various candidates and open pluralities. There is much interest in the contest between District Attorney John E.

Ruston and Magistrate Charles J. Dodd, his Democratic opponent. The probabilities are that the betting on the District Attorneyship will eclipse even that on the Governorship.

U. S. Commissioner Henry D. Barmore is a candidate and has the backing of the First Assembly District Republican organization for appointment as counsel to the State Tax Appraiser, soon to become vacant by the appointment of Marcus B. Campbell as the new Judge of the Federal Court. Commissioner Barmore was a candidate himself for the Judgeship, but there was no other name mentioned for the place but Campbell, who had the endorsement of both Senators Calder and Wadsworth. Barmore is the President of the First Assembly District Republican Club, a veteran of the World War and has made an excellent record as United States Commissioner. The place of Counsel to the Tax Appraiser is one of the most lucrative in the State, paying in fees as much as $15,000 per year. The salary of a Federal Judge is only $7,500 per year, less than a City Magistrate receives.

Mrs. Agnes Leonard Ward, co-leader of the 7th Assembly District, has organized the women of her district and has arranged a series of meetings for the Democratic candidates. Mrs. Ward, who is Borough Secretary, is one of the most active of the women leaders. She was a delegate to the State Convention at Syracuse and was one of the few from Brooklyn who wore a Smith badge. Mrs. Ward even asserted her independence further by declaring in favor of having a woman on the ticket, something the other women delegates were evidently afraid to do. A more supine delegation never represented Brooklyn at a State Convention.

Joseph Rocca, the present Assemblyman from the 13th District, is the united candidate of the Democrats and Republicans. He is being opposed by former Assemblyman Abraham I. Shipplackoff, the Socialist leader, who carried the district twice for Assembly and is a hard man to beat in the district. Shipplackoff was a candidate last year, but suffered defeat. He is making a stirring campaign, but the odds seem to be against him. The district, which is in the Brownsville section, polls the largest Socialist vote in Brooklyn.

The NAMM IDEA—To Buy for Cash, to Sell for Cash—Big Sales, Small Profits

To the Discoverer of America

no memorial could be more appropriate than the great Lighthouse which is being planned for erection at Santo Domingo City, where it is believed Columbus is buried. W. E. Williams, General Receiver of Dominican Customs, says: "The plan for the Santo Domingo memorial calls for a massive tomb of severe simplicity, from whence would ascend a towering beam of light to shine out on the direct sea lane between European ports and the Panama Canal." It is proposed to raise a million dollars by 50-cent subscriptions and to make no call on Government aid. The NAMM Store takes this occasion—Columbus's birthday—to endorse this excellent plan to honor the memory of the Great Discoverer.
